BRITISH ELECTIONS EXPECTED THIS YEAR

Appeal to Electors Looked For Before Christmas on Free Trade or Protection

LONDON, Nov. 8.—More than one paper this morning repeats the suggestion that the general election may come before Christmas.

"Panicstricken by the force of the Free Trade speeches delivered in the last few days," is the opinion of those prepared to support the Premier, according to The Daily News, which will have nothing to do with protection and thinks the protectionists are eager to jockey the Premier into a snap election.

Another suggestion abroad is that a full meeting of the Unionist party ought to be called, but this encounter is rather poor reception by a section of the party's own press which regards the demand as submitted by a rather fussy minority.

Both the Unionists and Labor organizations express themselves as fully prepared for a snap election and, indeed, have made arrangements for such an emergency.

The Lloyd George group, to some extent, is marking time until their leader arrives from America. Lloyd George's principal lieutenant, however, already has made his own attitude toward protection clear.

A Deplorable Controversy

"A deplorable controversy at the present time," was his declaration of the Premier's tariff proposals at Northampton last night, when he declared: "I will bet Neville Chamberlain (Chancellor of the Exchequer) a modest amount that if he introduces the suggested tariff he will see everything he puts a duty on rise in price."

Much the same was said by Ramsay MacDonald, the Labor opposition leader, in a speech, at Merioneth, Wales, when he described the cry of protection as only a red herring.

Attacked by Free Traders as a tax on the poor man's lunch, Great Britain's new preference proposals already are the centre of controversy.

The Daily News estimates that as a result of the preference every pound of tin and every pound of copper from outside the Empire will cost a penny more. Every quart bottle of fruit juice will rise three pence, according to The News, and every pound of foreign apples a halfpenny.

Taxing Poor Man's Delicacies

The Westminster Gazette says: "One by one the delicacies of the working class table are being added to the tax list. It is not only the foods that will cost more to buy."

None of the preference proposals will become effective until they have received parliamentary sanction. They will, therefore, either have to run the gauntlet of the coming session of Parliament or if legislation is delayed until the budget is presented, they probably will be dependent on the issue of the general election. Indeed, a wing of the Conservative party is understood to be strongly pressing for dissolution this week-end to avoid meeting Parliament at all.

There is a suggestion that the British Government might be prepared to add a pound of wine to the preferential tariff offer. Australia and South Africa have been pushing their wines on the English market.

YUKON'S WET GOODS IMPASSE CONSIDERED

Anti-Ram Running Conference Will Take Note of Northern Territory's Unfortunate Position

OTTAWA, Nov. 8.—When representatives of the United States Government come here at the end of the month to seek closer co-operation from the Canadian authorities in efforts to reduce rum smuggling at border points, it is understood in official circles that the question of conveying liquor in bond through Alaska for the Yukon and then through British Columbia will be raised.

At the present time an anomalous situation arises in the Yukon, where the people voted in favor of government control of liquor, but can get no wet goods from their because the United States authorities will not allow such shipments to pass through the Alaskan frontier which separates the Yukon district from the sea. The territorial government of the Yukon, in accordance with the mandate of the electors, bought 100,000 worth of liquor, which has been at Vancouver for a considerable time and cannot be conveyed to its destination owing to the American attitude. A liquor store located at Atlin, in Northern British Columbia, is also devoid of stock for the same reason.

Yukon River Available

Under the Treaty of Washington, Federal officials claim, the Yukon River is designated as an international stream, and it would be possible to take shipments of liquor to the Yukon in that way were it not for the time entailed by the long journey.

The strip of territory which separates the Yukon from the Pacific Coast is eighteen miles wide, and Government officials lack upon Wrangell and Skagway as the logical places of entry.

Some time ago the Attorney-General of British Columbia took up the question of the United States objection with Government officials here. He felt that in the interests of friendly relations between Canada and the United States, the American authorities should not object to shipments of liquor passing through Alaska in bond. The matter was referred to the Department of External Affairs, and, it is understood, will be discussed at the coming conference.

Voice from the wings: "Stop playing the hero, John, and come home."

HOLDS BOBBED HAIR IS A SIGN OF LAZINESS

PARIS, Nov. 8.—Women bob their hair through laziness, according to an investigation of the Paris Soir, a newspaper which has interrogated a number of women in all classes.

It is easier and quicker to arrange, saves waiting hours for coiffeurs, economizes in money and permits more active life, are some of the reasons given by the women for cutting their hair.

It is estimated that 75 per cent of the society women have bobbed hair, 55 per cent of the actresses, 10 per cent of the stenographers and shop girls, and 30 per cent of the demimondes. Employment bureaus declare that even servant girls are bobbing their hair.

KING GEORGE PATRON OF CANADIAN SOCIETY

Duke of York Presides at Organization Dinner in London

LONDON, Nov. 8.—The Duke of York was present at a dinner given last night by the Canadian Society at Claridge's Hotel, in honor of Premier Mackenzie King. The distinguished company included the Archbishop of Canterbury, Viscountess Cave, the Speaker of the House of Commons, the Duke of Devonshire, the Duke of Athol, Sir Joseph Flavelle, Lord Grey, Lord Minto, Viscount Lascelles, Lord Riddell, Lord Hewart, Hon. G. P. Graham, Hon. P. C. Larkin, Canadian High Commissioner, the Agents-General of British Columbia, Ontario, Quebec, Nova Scotia, Sir Hamar Greenwood, Right Hon. Austen Chamberlain, Right Hon. Winston Churchill and Thomas Mulvey, under-secretary for Canada.

Sir Campbell Stuart announced the definite formation of the Canadian History Society. King George accepted the office of patron, the Duke of Connaught of president, Douglas Countess Minto, vice-president, and the Duke of Devonshire, of the council of families.

John Buchanan agreed to act as editor-in-chief of the proposed biographies.

An executive committee was formed consisting of Sir Campbell Stuart, Sir Robert Kindersley, Sir William Schoaling and John Buchanan, Dr. A. G. Doughty, with H. P. Bigger as secretary.

Similar Societies

A similar society was formed in France in which Marquis De Montcalm accepted the office of president of the council of families. It is hoped shortly to organize a third society in Canada which will consist primarily of descendants of historical families resident in Canada. In order to ensure co-operation among these sister societies annual dinners for the men and women members will be arranged in each country. It is hoped that each society will send delegates to the functions of the others.

Apologies for his absence were read from the Duke of Connaught who expressed his warmest sympathy for Sir Campbell Stuart's "splendid efforts to cement the friendly historic connection between Canada and England," also from Marquis De Montcalm, hoping that the French branch would soon play a practical part in connection with the early history of Canada.

His Majesty's Message

His Majesty in a message replying to the telegram of thanks to him for his acceptance of the office of patron of this society, expressed his appreciation of the message received, and also expressed gratification that the Duke of York was present at the dinner to Premier King. His Majesty gratefully recognized "the efforts of the society to give the coming generations of Canada a deeper insight into the stirring history of their country," and wished every success to the furtherance of this admirable object.

Computing Marks Now Tangles Statisticians

BERLIN, Nov. 8.—Every person in the world could have six hundred paper marks out of the change obtained by converting one gold mark, or 25 cents, into paper marks, according to an estimate by German statisticians. One gold pfennig converted into notes of one mark denomination would make a complete load for a freight train of twenty cars.

The allied reparations claim upon Germany of 132,000,000,000 gold marks as set in the London conference, would in paper marks today total thirty-three trillion trillion, and the statisticians estimate that this sum in one mark notes would form a mass greater in bulk than the Reichstag building.

The total paper money circulation of Germany is estimated in excess of 224 thousand trillion marks.

POLICE INVASION DECLARED ILLEGAL

Manitoba Appeal Court Rules Liquor Search Without Warrants Is Contrary to Law

WINNIPEG, Nov. 8.—No fewer than thirty Temperance Act cases, about a dozen of them involving liquor selling in hotels, are affected by a decision handed down today by the Manitoba court of appeal ruling it illegal for police officers in search of liquor to invade premises or arrest individuals without a warrant.

Police admit that it will add to the difficulties—already greatly increased by the government's control act—of enforcing the Manitoba Temperance Act.

Attorneys predict that the defendants in most of the cases, which have been hanging on the police court docket for some time awaiting the appeal court's decision, will be discharged. The appeal court's ruling is sweeping, and states definitely that in cases where alleged liquor law violators resist arrest without warrant the onus of justifying his course will rest on the police officer involved.

AMERICANS HEAR OF THEIR FAULTS

Israel Zangwill Tells New York Audience What He Thinks of Their Ways

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—Mr. Israel Zangwill, English man of letters, today told the League for Political Education what he thought of America.

"I have but an hour to speak and it will take as long to tell your virtues," he said. "A list of your faults would take only three hours, so I'm not going to refer to your virtues. There are more cranks in the square mile in the United States than in any other country in the world."

"There is more honor, justice and dignity in England than in any other." "The absence of dignity in this country is exemplified in many ways. The opinion of Benny Leonard, who is a good, clean, hard-fitting prizefighter, is sought regarding the merits of a judge to be elected and solemnly printed in the newspapers."

"The Ku Klux Klan, which is a sort of exaggerated boy scout movement, could be laughed out of existence. But America has no sense of humor."

"Everything is less efficient in America than in England. The mails, the press, the railroads, and your Central Park are a disgrace to a good elevator boy."

"America thinks without acting and acts without thinking. Years ago she went to war because of taxation without representation. Today I am taxed 8 per cent of all I earn in this country, yet I have no vote."

"America has no sense of shame. The Sunday newspaper weighs four pounds. The world was better off when people read the Bible and Shakespeare."

"This country has the best half-educated people in the world. It's a land of make-believe."

"While America isn't the greatest country on God's earth, it has the greatest potentialities. If America goes wrong the last hope of civilization goes wrong."

Mother Finds Vicks Handy For Many Ills

Mrs. Brown of Brandon Finds It a Most Useful Remedy.

Mrs. John Brown, of 426 24th Street, Brandon, Manitoba, writes: "I have eight small children, aged from one to twelve years, and can certainly say that Vicks is the only cold remedy I have in the house all winter. If the cold is in the child's head I just put a little up each nostril and it gives relief in a short time. If it is in the chest I rub Vicks well in at night, and by morning the cold has almost disappeared. I also use Vicks for chilblains and for burns; in fact, I use it too for severe headaches and find relief in a very short time. I always recommend Vicks to my friends, especially those who have children."

Vicks comes as a relief—the external direct treatment for all cold troubles—absorbed like a liniment and inhaled as a vaporizer.

It is the modern direct treatment for all cold troubles—the successor to goose grease, camphorated oil, liniments, poultices and plasters.

Used for croup and children's colds, Vicks gives remarkably quick results for all cold troubles—internal and external. Just as good for adults and for skin inflammations, such as cuts, burns, bruises, bites and stings.

At all drug stores, 50c a jar. For a free test size package, write Vicks Chemical Co., 24 St. Paul St., W. Montreal, P.Q.

Though Vicks is new in Canada, it has a remarkable sale in the States. Over 17 million jars used yearly. (Adv.)

COMOX MEMBER FAVORS LOG DUTY

MR. MENZIES SEES CHANCE FOR INDUSTRY'S DEVELOPMENT

Cut Off American Supply, He Asserts, and There Will Be More Work
Available for B.C.'s Youth

An embargo upon British Columbia logs shipped to the United States was strongly urged in the Legislature yesterday afternoon by Mr. Thomas Menzies, independent member for Comox, when he contributed his share to the debate on the address in reply to the speech from the Throne. The member demanded that an export duty of from $2 to $5 per thousand be placed upon the export of logs to the end that the lumber industry may be encouraged in this Province and British Columbia's young men, who are now working in the lumber mills of Washington, may be kept within the Province. Mr. Menzies claimed there was too much overlapping in the matter of Fall fairs and the amount spent in wages and transportation of the judges sent out by the Department of Agriculture. He cited the case of the Saanichton fair where twelve judges were named to adjudicate on 500 entries, while at the same time the agricultural section of the Victoria exhibition was deplorably lacking.

Asks About Sumas
The Comox member made known his stand on the Sumas Lake Reclamation scheme. The questions demanded from the Minister of Agriculture on Wednesday as regards the expense and other details, should be answered, he claimed. The people of the country wanted to know what the farmers of the Sumas district were expected to pay for this work and whether there was going to be a repetition of other reclamation schemes where the settlers had made an appeal to the Province to bear a portion of the cost. Then again, there was the Okanagan scheme where the original estimate was $900,000 to reclaim upwards of 14,000 acres. Recent information has been obtained, which showed that while only half of this acreage had been reclaimed, the cost had reached $2,500,000 and that to complete the work a total of from four to six millions would be necessary. To repair an accident near the town of Oliver, a contractor had been paid $70,000 on the cost-plus basis. Mr. Menzies questioned the procedure carried out, both at Sumas and Oliver. The work should have been done under the direction of the Minister of Public Works, he asserted.

Turning to the lumber situation, Mr. Menzies asked the Minister of Lands whether any steps had been taken to eliminate the enormous expense in logging operations, where the wastage reached as high as thirty per cent. He was firmly of the opinion that an embargo should be placed on the exportation of pulp to the United States. There was no reason for Canada keeping up the town of Port Angeles and other American centres where the young men of British Columbia are finding employment. He also quoted a recent announcement that Portland, Ore., interests were planning to cut one billion feet of lumber on Vancouver Island, and were to establish a saw-mill on Quatsino Sound, for the purpose of reducing the logs to squares. It was high time, he claimed, to place an embargo of from $2 to $5 a thousand on this exportation in order to force American capital to establish mills on the Canadian side of the boundary. "The American companies are merely laughing at us as being slow," Mr. Menzies stated. "We are slow. I have statistics to show that the embargo on shingles has saved many mills from going out of business." The member for Comox spoke in favor of the eight-hour day legislation against Oriental immigration, while he also suggested that the Game Conservation Board should amend its regulations so as to allow a hotel proprietor to serve game, brought in by hunters, on a table. He also supported the suggestion of the member for Richmond that the Home for Incubables be established in a quiet spot where the inmates could spend their late days in peace and comfort.

REAL ESTATE ACT SHARPLY ATTACKED

Local Exchange Wants Agents Bonded or Legislation Repealed—Unlicensed Persons

The Victoria Real Estate Exchange favor the repeal of the present legislation licensing real estate agents unless an amendment is made whereby every agent would be bonded. Further, it asks for a provision that no person who has not a table broker at the time of making the sale shall be competent to sue for commission. These expressions of opinion were contained in resolutions passed by the Exchange at its quarterly meeting yesterday in the Chamber of Commerce rooms, where a luncheon was held. Mr. Alfred Carmichael presided, and about fifteen members were present.

You Can Eat Anything You Like And Not Have HEARTBURN

In all cases of heartburn there is a gnawing and burning pain in the stomach attended by a disturbed appetite, as when much food is taken into the stomach it is liable to ferment and become extremely sour, vomiting occurs, and what is thrown up is generally acid and bitter. When you are in this condition you will find that Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills will give you relief right away. Mr. Joseph H. MacDonald, Christchurch Island, N.Z., writes: "Two years ago I suffered all the time from heartburn. I took one vial of Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills and have never been troubled since." "It is very nice to be able to eat anything you like and not have heartburn any more." Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are 25c a vial at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont. (Adv.)

With the Lawmakers

For the purpose of "getting around" the recent decision of His Honor Judge Howay in connection with the condemnation of certain buildings in New Westminster, the owners of which made a successful appeal in the county court of the City of Vancouver, Mr. W. K. Ealing, Roseland, queried Hon. Dr. MacLean yesterday as to whether the bill was read a first time in the chamber and will likely receive careful scrutiny when it comes up in committee next week.

No information is obtainable in government quarters as to the present whereabouts of A. B. Buckworth, former manager of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway, who resigned his post some months ago. Mr. W. K. Ealing, Roseland, queried Hon. Dr. MacLean yesterday as to whether Buckworth was not now in Mexico. The minister stated he was lacking such information.

Attorney-General Manson yesterday informed R. H. Pooley, Esq., that the L. R. Steel Company did not violate the laws of the Province and that no criminal responsibility had been assigned following the collapse of the Canadian-American concern.

The original estimate of the Sumas Lake reclamation scheme was $1,500,000, but this did not include the estimates for main dam and pumping plant, which could not be determined until later. Hon. E. D. Barrow, Minister of Agriculture, informed the House yesterday afternoon in answer to a question asked by Mr. J. W. Jones, South Okanagan.

The work has been carried on by the contractor whose tender was accepted in each case. The work has been carried out on the cost-plus basis with a fixed fee not to exceed $40,000. No estimate of the cost per acre to farmers interested was given.

In answer to the query as to what further steps will be necessary to complete the project, the minister replied, "dependent on engineering survey now in process. Work substantially completed excepting for work on portion of lake east of As to the probable cost per acre to be levied on the lands of this area the minister says, "answers to all questions by Sumas commissioners limited to recorded facts. No responsibility to premature conjectures as to probabilities." Tuesday next Premier Oliver will urge that in the opinion of members of the House there should be appointed at the port of New York a customs officer in order to facilitate transportation of Canadian produce and manufactures via the Panama Canal. This move is in line with the suggestions advanced by the local Chamber of Commerce.

In an effort to have the Longshoremen's strike in Vancouver and Victoria settled, the provincial Department of Labor is about to prefer its good offices. Mr. J. D. McNiven, deputy minister of labor, left yesterday for Vancouver in this connection.

A tabloid picture of the activities of the Land Settlement Board in the past four years is available for any member to put together the details supplied by Hon. E. D. Barrow, Minister of Agriculture, yesterday, to Mr. J. W. Jones in answer to questions. Thirteen land settlement areas, having a total area of 192,139 acres, have been established. The cost of this land in investigation, survey and purchase was $291,402. The Board has sold 29,128 acres for $158,928, of which $121,610 has been received in cash.

Local automobile dealers will make a fight to have the proposed gasoline tax collected direct from the oil companies instead of the consumer. As a result of a meeting held at the Chamber of Commerce, The feeling of the meeting was that the cost of collecting the tax from the consumer was a burden to put together the details supplied by Hon. E. D. Barrow, Minister of Agriculture, yesterday, to Mr. J. W. Jones in answer to questions.

A move is on foot among the up-country members to have an extension of the Thanksgiving holiday so to take in Tuesday as well as Monday. This is done to allow the members a longer distance to go the opportunity of being able to spend the whole of Monday at their homes. It is expected that the government will agree to the request, and that when the House rises on Friday evening it will stand adjourned until Wednesday afternoon.

MR. NEELANDS FOR EIGHT-HOUR DAY

South Vancouver's Member in Legislature Yesterday Strongly Favours Measure to Be Introduced

Speaking of the proposed eight-hour day bill, R. H. Neelands, Labor member for South Vancouver, read in the Legislature yesterday, quoted statistics from the last report of the Labor Department. "Not only are there 34,000 individuals working more than eight hours a day," he said, "but of these 15,000 are working twelve, thirteen and fourteen hours and upwards. I find one individual is working ninety-one hours a week, another ninety-four hours and one even 184 hours. Surely there is room for missionary work against that sort of thing in this province."

While conceding that there had been a reduction in the number of unemployed, Mr. Neelands stated that unemployment is still a great evil, and he contended that the relief provided by the Government, which he called useless work, was a wastage of man power.

Mr. Neelands cited statistics to show that Canada's population was not increasing as it should, and he claimed that conditions such as desertion, and which he said the Government was responsible for, were driving people from the country.

He denounced the scale of twenty-five cents an hour paid to bus fire-fighters as inadequate, and said it would stand as a monument to the memory of the present Government for many years to come.

Speaking of the minimum wage for women as one of the best acts to the credit of the Government, he said unemployment employers were being hit by hiring boys, and urged that a minimum wage for boys be enacted also.

Conservative Member for Yale Indicts Public Wants to Know Facts Concerning Government

Mr. John McRae, Conservative member for Yale, created a mild sensation in the Legislature yesterday, when, in speaking of the P.E.C. charges, he advised the Government that if it would accept Mr. Joshua Hinchliffe's suggestion and have a wide-open, clear-cut investigation, every Liberal member of the House would win his seat at the next election.

"But if you don't do it, not one of you will come back," he declared. "If you are honest and have nothing to hide, why not throw open the books? That's the way to put General McRae out of business."

"Which McRae?" asked a Government supporter. "Oh, you can easily put me out of business," modestly admitted the member amid laughter.

Mr. McRae urged the Minister of Agriculture to correct marketing evils by which city people were paying for fruit and farm produce four times what the farmers were getting for it. "We had good crops this year, but the farmers could not sell a single product at a profit," he declared. "For the first time in my experience I have seen farmers and their wives from my district go to the Prairies to take part in the harvest, so as to have a few dollars to pay their taxes and grocery bills."

The member stated that the Water Street wholesalers, in Vancouver, were "criminals" who ought to be put on trial. He asked the Government to aid in exterminating coyotes, which, he said, made it impossible to keep sheep around Agassiz, and he denounced the personal property tax, the Minister of Public Works to build the Harrison Mills road at once.

"I hear there is going to be an election," Mr. McRae said, "and I appeal."

Good Health Secret of Beauty

Beauty lies in the care a woman bestows upon herself and in keeping at bay those dread ailments peculiar to her sex, which drag her down and leave telltale traces upon her countenance. Sparkling eyes, the elastic step and a clear complexion never accompany organic troubles. Pictorial expressions, a sallow complexion, dark circles under the eyes, lassitude, headaches, and mental depression are the telltale symptoms of women's ailments. Women so troubled should not lose a day in taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, the most successful remedy known to overcome woman's ills and restore health and beauty. (Adv.)

to the Government to fulfill at least this one promise before it goes out of office."

Denies Cruelty In Buffalo Slaughter

EDMONTON, Nov. 8.—In denying any needless cruelty in the shooting of buffalo for a movie film recently, Al Wainwright Park, Superintendent W. B. Smith says: "Any animals that were not dropped instantly, did not get two hundred yards away before our mounted riflemen were in pursuit. All wounded animals were dispatched within ten minutes of the time the shooting started."

No Increase in Coal Prices This Winter

Victorians Unlikely to Suffer From Coal Troubles That Beset the East, Dealers Declare—But They Urge Those Who Can to Buy Now and Avoid Congestion

WHILE the annual winter coal scarcity and the skyward flight of prices is agitating the frigid East, Victorians, according to the statements of local dealers yesterday, may rest assured that there will be ample supplies of the fuel on hand to meet any demand this winter, and further, that there is not the shadow of a likelihood of prices mounting here for many months to come.

Victoria's fuel dealers are amongst the very few people who do not reduce unreservedly at the continued fine weather. They complain that their business is languishing in the doldrums as a consequence of the industry of "Old Sol." They point out, however, that the weather is not to be taken for granted, and that the fuel on hand is ample to meet any demand. They also point out that the fuel on hand is ample to meet any demand. They also point out that the fuel on hand is ample to meet any demand.

"People with sufficient money," said Mr. A. M. Kirk, of Kirk & Co., yesterday, "should buy their winter supply while it is possible to fill large orders with comparative ease. There are, of course, many people who can't finance the purchase of a large quantity at one time. But if those who can would do so now, there would be little chance of having to do without coal for several days at a stretch when the rush does come."

No Change Till Summer
"There will probably be no change in prices until next summer," said Mr. Ronald Kingham, well-known dealer, when approached on the subject yesterday. Prices rose 50c a ton on September 1 last, from $12.50 to $13 for nut coal and $12.50 for lump coal. The mines up-land were not working at full capacity at present, and yet there are abundant supplies in the city. Any sudden increase in the demand could easily be met by adding more men to the shafts."

When asked his opinion of the recent proposal to have Canadian Government steamships, returning

Today's proceedings the Economic Conference adopted a formal resolution, Canada still dissenting, providing for the formation of an Imperial economic committee. The committee under the resolution is to consist of four members from Great Britain, two from each of the Dominions and India and two also representing the Crown Colonies and Protectorates.

One of the series of resolutions adopted touches Imperial interchanges, referring particularly to Empire countries with sterling currency. The resolutions express the view that the exchange difficulties of these countries are back on a gold basis. They reject the proposal for the creation of Empire currency bills, and they also reject the proposal to exchange difficulties between these Empire exchanges and the United Kingdom would be ameliorated if note issuing parties were to accumulate sterling assets and undertake the total exchange of their local currencies for sterling, and vice versa.

Seamen's Compensation
Under the head of workmen's compensation, the conference held that the compensation to seamen should be limited to accidents in territorial waters. It held that the British subject permanently incapacitated, and no dependent of a British subject who was killed by accident in territorial waters, should be entitled to compensation if the country of their origin reciprocates.

INSISTS GOVERNMENT MUST MAKE INQUIRY

fully into the whole facts of the opposition efforts last year to get a inquiry into the affairs of the Northern Construction Company; he appealed the administration for its effort to block that inquiry and declared that the public of the Province wanted the facts. He referred to the Rossmore charges and said:

"The Premier tells us these charges are not proved. I defy anyone to say a finger on any wrong-doing of the Premier. I do not believe the bluff and bluster of the Premier will get by. I do not suggest that the Premier has profited personally through one dollar of over-expenditure. At the same time the public is demanding the facts. But I do say that when the Premier claims that his personal honor is being traduced by our charges, he is not a bit more honest than any other member of the House."

Contractors' Percentage
Mr. Ealing claimed the Northern Construction Company had been given five and one-half per cent on outlays according to agreement.

Premier Oliver—Under the contract no percentage was paid except upon the basis of unit prices. I hope this will be the last time I will have to deny that accusation.

Mr. Ealing—The fact is the more the Northern Construction Company gets out of the Province the more percentage they get.

Mr. Ealing, in conclusion, declared the Government must take the responsibility for any shortcomings in connection with the construction of the road and that responsibility mainly rested upon the Premier. The road, according to the Government's statement, is to be constructed to Prince George some years ago at a price of $6,000,000. The fact was that it had cost from $16,000,000 to $18,000,000 additional since the Premier was Minister of the Interior. He was yet far from his objective. He recalled that only four years ago the Premier had ordered the change of grade in the line near Quenest, perhaps for political reasons, a change that had cost the people of the Province $432,000, but no economic advantage had been secured.

TO DEMAND ROAD FROM HALIFAX TO ALBERNI

Canadian Highway Association to Urge Extension of Proposed Transcontinental Road to Alberni

Plans to urge upon the Federal Government the advisability of having the proposed transcontinental road from Halifax to Vancouver extend to Alberni via the West Coast of Vancouver Island, will be formulated at the forthcoming meeting of the Canadian Highway Association at the Chamber of Commerce next Tuesday afternoon.

It was announced recently that the Government will begin the construction of a ferry from the mainland to Alberni via the West Coast of Vancouver Island, and that the route should be continued to Sidney by the Government.

It has been pointed out as an interesting phase of the road that a ferry running daily from the mainland to Alberni would inevitably bring a larger measure of prosperity to the islands en route, such as Mayne and Galiano. This year the Alberni ferry resulted in a tremendous increase of business, and a considerable number of tourists to cross and San Juan Islands. Those interested in the proposition point out that a continuation of the road would be of tremendous value to Victoria's tourist trade.

The association is still offering two gold medals to be awarded respectively to the first person who motor to Victoria, and to the first motorist who travels from Louisbourg, Nova Scotia, without leaving Canada, to Victoria, B.C.

A dance will be held in the hall on November 14 for the club and its friends.

The Crow of Croup A Warning To All Mothers

"Croup starts with a dry cough and rattling in the throat; after which the child, after having been restlessly about, will start up with a flushed face, protruding eyeballs, and a distressing look of terror and anxiety. There is a struggle for breath, and the expectoration of the mucus matter is so difficult to get rid of that the effort appears to threaten strangulation."

On the first sign of the "croupy crow" mothers should administer Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, and thus give the child prompt and permanent relief, and perhaps the life saved by taking this precaution.

Mrs. H. A. Langhorn, Hamilton, Ont., writes:—"My little boy was very bad with the croup and I could not get anything to relieve him until I tried Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. I cannot praise it too highly for the relief it gave him."

YOUNG YUNG IN TROUBLE, BUT OLD YUNG HAS TO PAY

YUNG, senior, expected a sheer saving of $2.50 when he brought Yung, junior, with him to the police court yesterday, albeit the court decreed that Yung, junior, must pay the costs of the summons, in the sum of $2.50. But Yung, senior, thought that was better than paying the usual $5 fine for not having a rear light on his motor truck. The junior Yung, twelve years old, admitted that he had been playing with the light of his father's vehicle, at the time when the traffic constable had noted the infraction of motor regulations. Magistrate Jay thought that if young Yung had had to pay the costs it might teach him "not to do it any more." Yung, senior, paid the fine, with a grinner which seemed to intimate the likelihood that Yung, junior, would hear further of the case.

DEATH OF CANADIAN AUTHOR ANNOUNCED

Late John Cassell Hopkins Well Known Here as Journalist, Author and Publisher

Announcement of the death Monday of John Cassell Hopkins, well-known Canadian journalist and author, will be of interest to many Victorians who knew him as an occasional visitor here. He leaves several relatives on the island and Lower Mainland. After an early training as a bank clerk, Mr. Hopkins entered the journalistic field in which he advanced to an editorial post on The Morning Mail and Empire. Later he branched out for himself as an independent author and publisher, which career he followed for thirty years. While "Canada, an Encyclopedia of the Country," is perhaps the best known of the late Mr. Hopkins' works, "The Canadian Annual Review" held first place in the esteem of the author himself. Biographies of Queen Victoria and of Gladstone are amongst the many other volumes that won him fame. Mr. Hopkins had a mastery over figures, and his tone to statistical journalism is incalculable.

The respondent did not defend the suit. A decree absolute was pronounced, and the custody of the four children of the marriage was given to the petitioner, Mr. L. C. Mills appeared for the petitioner.

Call on Dame Clara Butt—A delegation from the Royal Society of St. George, headed by Dr. C. S. Quinlan and Mrs. Mary K. Leach, waited on Dame Clara Butt and party at the Empress Hotel yesterday afternoon, for the purpose of extending greetings. Mrs. Mary K. Leach presented a bouquet of red and white carnations to Dame Clara Butt on behalf of the Society.

Old-Time Dances—A special feature of British Columbia's Carnival will be held at the Empress Hotel on Monday, November 19, will be the old-fashioned cotillion, danced in stately fashion by ladies in hooped skirts, under the direction of Mrs. W. H. Wilson. Many guests will also appear in old-fashioned gowns relative to the period, and renew acquaintance with the old-time dancers, dear to the heart of their mothers and grandmothers, and others will probably dance them for the first time. Professor Lou Turner's orchestra will provide the music.

No Mail Monday—Monday, being a public holiday, will be observed at the Post Office as follows: There will be no letter-carrier deliveries during the day. Money order and postage stamps will be sold during these hours. The Post Office lobby will be open to the public as on ordinary days.

The principal reason why taxes in Victoria this year have increased over those of 1922, in face of the fact that expenditures have been cut down $54,900, is the lowering of assessments, which during 1922 amounted to $3,500,000, according to a statement made to members of the Victoria Rotary Club by Mayor Reginald Hayward yesterday. The gathering was held in the dining-room of the Chamber of Commerce, and was well attended.

Mayor Hayward told his audience that last year were 80 less taxpayers in the city this year than in 1922. He cited other things which were responsible for the increase in taxation, including increased interest on the Johnson Street bridge loan, the maintenance of the mid bridge, and taxes on reverted lands, the latter amounting to over $10,000. With the difference in assessments in 1922 and 1923, an increase in taxation was this year unavoidable, said His Worship.

The speaker believed that it would be a most unfortunate thing for the city if a single tax council were elected to the City Hall at the next municipal elections. He declared that the city was pulling itself out of its difficulties, and was getting into fairly good shape. If the city reverted to a single tax system, it would mean the wholesale reversion of lands in the city, he thought, because "the tax rate would probably jump from around 40 mills to 55 mills."

City Hall Accuses in Brief

Trustee Walter Walker, who completes his two-year term this year, will not be in the field again because of ill health.

It is most likely that Trustee J. L. Beckwith will stand again for another term on the School Board.

Various names are connected with election rumors now to be heard on the street. Mr. R. R. Taylor, of Oak Bay, partner in the Drake Hardware Company, has been talked of as an aldermanic candidate, but states that he will not stand. Mr. James Fletcher, Mr. J. E. Wilson and Mr. P. B. Scourrah are mentioned as having been approached to represent the retailers in the aldermanic field.

TO HAVE EXHIBITION MEETING
Alderman Harvey said yesterday that he would call a meeting shortly under the auspices of the Industrial Committee of the City Council to consider proposals for a Victoria section in the British Columbia exhibition to be placed in the Empire Exhibition in London next year. All interested will be invited to attend. The Alderman is endeavoring to ascertain what exhibits would be available from here so that he can go to Premier Oliver with a definite scheme.

A wife may qualify as a school trustee candidate on her husband's property, and vice versa, City Solicitor H. S. Pringle said yesterday after looking into the matter.

The fine point of whether, after the City Council has approved an application for entrance into the Old Men's Home, the Mayor can refuse to append his signature, recommending the applicant, was raised at the City Hall yesterday. No such instance has arisen at the present time.

OFFICIAL SEES BRIDGE
Mayor Hayward took the new City Comptroller over to the Bank of Montreal yesterday afternoon and introduced him. After he had dropped him down to the new Johnson Street bridge, where he was shown over that structure.

The number of households on the new municipal voters' list will be considerably smaller than last year.

RADIO WATCHMEN NOW GUARD COAST

WIRELESS STATIONS OPERATE AT CARMANAH AND BEALE
Ship Protection Scheme on West Coast Ready for Radio to Call Hamfield Lifeline

Radio sentinels now watch the west coast of Vancouver Island for shipwreck. Temporary stations established at various points, including Hamfield, are now in operation. The installation of wireless telephones, also now equipped with wireless, was completed yesterday. Weather reports were dispatched therefrom for the first time last night.

Two of the stations are located at Carmanah and Cape Beale light houses, on the thirty-mile stretch of coast where a hundred vessels have been carried to the doom since ships first began to frequent these waters. At Lennard Island, further north, also a noted spot in the history of local marine disaster, a third plant is being put in. Although of small power, the stations are strong enough for their purpose, which is to communicate with Hamfield life saving station, also now equipped with wireless, when vessels are ashore or in danger along the west coast. Similar service will be performed by the new direction-finding plant at Pachena, also now virtually ready to begin work.

Tragedies such as that of the Alaskan, which went ashore last winter after many hours of distress, while the Pachena lighthouse keepers looked on helplessly, unable to get warning through to Hamfield, with land wires down by the storm, will be impossible under the new conditions.

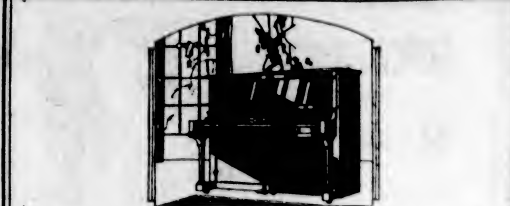

MAQUINNA SAILING SUNDAY, DAY LATE
The R. C. Coast Service announces that the steamer Princess Maquinna will be a day late sailing for the West Coast on her next trip. She will get away Sunday night instead of Saturday.

The Girl in the Corner Apartment

By MAY CHRISTIE
Author of "One Glorious Year," "The Daring Kid," etc.

THE CHARACTERS

Cynthia Brent, country girl, living in a New York apartment who has inherited from an old lady she once befriended.

Ruby Allison, her gay and frivolous friend.

Alec Kerr, Ruby's fiancé.

Quentin Gray, an artist friend of Ruby.

Aunt Ellen, who keeps house for Cynthia.

Murray Stewart, for whom Cynthia is working as a stenographer.

Mrs. Wakeland, friend and rich client of Stewart, who takes a fancy to Cynthia.

Violet Jerrold, friend of Murray's.

LXXXIII—Cynthia Wonders

CYNTHIA withdrew her hand, but not before Murray Stewart had seen the Southerner stoop and deferentially kiss the girl's fingers, in a pique of jealousy. Not only a pang of jealousy, but a real wave.

Of resentment swept over him, at witnessing the little

Margaret Wakeland's whispered:

"Young Coverdale is quite infatuated with my little friend!"

"But of course I couldn't go!" responded Cynthia naively. "I told him so."

Mrs. Wakeland laughed outright, glancing humorously towards Murray Stewart.

"Ingenious, isn't she? You've let the cat out of the bag, my dear."

The girl looked distressed, and when coffee was finished, she rose to go into her own room, leaving Murray and his client to the discussion of business matters.

Once alone, she took off her hat and coat and put her hands up to her throbbing temples. Then, drawing an easy chair to the open window, she seated herself, and allowed the fresh air to play about her brow.

Why had Mrs. Wakeland flaunted the Southerner in such a fashion? Had she wanted to anger Murray Stewart, or to separate the lovers? Why?

Perhaps she didn't know that Murray had—already poor Cynthia was using the post office, in their (she said)—had cared for her? Maybe it had never dawned on the rich woman-of-the-world that the eligible woman-of-the-world to such a little ignoramus as herself.

Fervently she wished that she were home again, in the tiny corner flat that was beautified by Aunt Ellen's loving service! It was a real home—a haven for the ups-and-downs in life.

"I'm out of my depths in the fashionable world," the girl told herself drearily, and with a deep sense of humiliation, "I can't cope with all these clever, traveled, well-polished folks. I suppose I stayed in my groove too long, and just can't fit into new conditions."

Reckless Coverdale, the Southerner, had been fitting. Yes, of course he had! It was idle to think otherwise. The world was full of fascinating women, who thoroughly understood the ropes, and the art of drawing men's attention to themselves. Then why imagine for a moment that a little country mouse could interpose such a "fashionable bachelorette" as she was?

A sort of panic seized the girl, so that she wanted to fly away from this luxurious hostelry, with its velvet, soundless carpets, its sumptuous food, its expensive orchestra, and all the paraphernalia that entered into the whims of rich and splendid men and women.

But she had come here as companion and secretary to Margaret Wakeland. She had a duty to her friend. Tomorrow, much as she would like to run away and hide her head at home, with kind Aunt Ellen to comfort her, her duty was to type out letters on the little portable machine in the next room, and long documents, and other matter.

For Cynthia was "distraite," and her love-put that down to the fact of her recent obvious "conquest."

Mrs. Wakeland was the only member of the party who chatted cheerily, and who seemed in excellent spirits.

She switched the conversation on to her own business affairs. Murray had come to Chicago ostensibly on that account.

After the meal was over, he accompanied his client up to her private sitting-room, where coffee for three was served.

The room was fragrant with the perfume of the American Beauty roses that the Virginian had sent to Cynthia.

"They seem almost human," said Murray, sniffing one delicate blossom appreciatively, for he was a flower-lover. "And what long legs the creatures have! Got 'em over three feet high!"

"Yes, they arrived for Cynthia this morning," smiled Margaret Wakeland. She thought that all men were rather selfish and preoccupied, and that it would do Murray good to know he had a rival, and a rich one, in the field! Then, turning to the girl, she said, archly:

"My dear, young Coverdale is quite smitten. Confess, has he invited you yet to his ancestral halls in Old Virginia?" Her kind eyes twinkled.

"But of course I couldn't go!" responded Cynthia naively. "I told him so."

Mrs. Wakeland laughed outright, glancing humorously towards Murray Stewart.

"Ingenious, isn't she? You've let the cat out of the bag, my dear."

The girl looked distressed, and when coffee was finished, she rose to go into her own room, leaving Murray and his client to the discussion of business matters.

Once alone, she took off her hat and coat and put her hands up to her throbbing temples. Then, drawing an easy chair to the open window, she seated herself, and allowed the fresh air to play about her brow.

Why had Mrs. Wakeland flaunted the Southerner in such a fashion? Had she wanted to anger Murray Stewart, or to separate the lovers? Why?

Perhaps she didn't know that Murray had—already poor Cynthia was using the post office, in their (she said)—had cared for her? Maybe it had never dawned on the rich woman-of-the-world that the eligible woman-of-the-world to such a little ignoramus as herself.

Fervently she wished that she were home again, in the tiny corner flat that was beautified by Aunt Ellen's loving service! It was a real home—a haven for the ups-and-downs in life.

"I'm out of my depths in the fashionable world," the girl told herself drearily, and with a deep sense of humiliation, "I can't cope with all these clever, traveled, well-polished folks. I suppose I stayed in my groove too long, and just can't fit into new conditions."

Reckless Coverdale, the Southerner, had been fitting. Yes, of course he had! It was idle to think otherwise. The world was full of fascinating women, who thoroughly understood the ropes, and the art of drawing men's attention to themselves. Then why imagine for a moment that a little country mouse could interpose such a "fashionable bachelorette" as she was?

A sort of panic seized the girl, so that she wanted to fly away from this luxurious hostelry, with its velvet, soundless carpets, its sumptuous food, its expensive orchestra, and all the paraphernalia that entered into the whims of rich and splendid men and women.

But she had come here as companion and secretary to Margaret Wakeland. She had a duty to her friend. Tomorrow, much as she would like to run away and hide her head at home, with kind Aunt Ellen to comfort her, her duty was to type out letters on the little portable machine in the next room, and long documents, and other matter.

Tomorrow—Misunderstanding.

BAPTIST VIEWPOINT ON UNITED CHURCHES

While Organic Union Not in All Cases Possible, All Churches Are United in Service

Rev. William Stevenson, of Emmanuel Baptist Church, addressed the Island Baptist Association last Monday evening at Douglas Street Baptist Church on the subject of Church Union. Mr. Stevenson commenced his address with a brief outline of the modern movement for union among the churches.

Scotland had led the way, he said. The Free churches of England had formed a federation of the churches which had proved to be of immense advantage to the cause of Christianity and afforded a splendid example of the benefits of co-operation on a national and community scale. Federation, no doubt, was opening the way toward the larger union which was bound to come in time, he believed, as the dividing lines were worn away. The Anglican Church in England was doing a great work of the reunion of Christendom, and it could hardly be questioned that the noble efforts of that great body of Christians would one day result in a great coming together of the detached elements of the Body of Christ.

Canada, he said, was about to witness the consummation of long years of earnest effort to bring together three great evangelical denominations, and questioning the wisdom as to why the Baptists were standing outside of the movement. He assured the meeting that Baptists did not stand outside of the body of Christ on account of any narrowness of vision or brotherly sympathy. Baptists were good mixers, and they would always find their way to work together with other religious communions in every good work. Baptists, however, found themselves cut off from anything like organic union by virtue of the principles which lay at the root of their denominational and church life. It was not a mere question of immersion versus sprinkling, or adult versus infant baptism, he asserted; it was rather a matter of allegiance to the sole and exclusive authority of Christ Jesus, and the freedom from every other authority which infringed upon that principle. Baptists stood out against all possible encroachments from churches, from sections of churches, and from the whole church at any special moment of its action.

"They seem almost human," said Murray, sniffing one delicate blossom appreciatively, for he was a flower-lover. "And what long legs the creatures have! Got 'em over three feet high!"

"Yes, they arrived for Cynthia this morning," smiled Margaret Wakeland. She thought that all men were rather selfish and preoccupied, and that it would do Murray good to know he had a rival, and a rich one, in the field! Then, turning to the girl, she said, archly:

"My dear, young Coverdale is quite smitten. Confess, has he invited you yet to his ancestral halls in Old Virginia?" Her kind eyes twinkled.

"But of course I couldn't go!" responded Cynthia naively. "I told him so."

Mrs. Wakeland laughed outright, glancing humorously towards Murray Stewart.

"Ingenious, isn't she? You've let the cat out of the bag, my dear."

The girl looked distressed, and when coffee was finished, she rose to go into her own room, leaving Murray and his client to the discussion of business matters.

Once alone, she took off her hat and coat and put her hands up to her throbbing temples. Then, drawing an easy chair to the open window, she seated herself, and allowed the fresh air to play about her brow.

Why had Mrs. Wakeland flaunted the Southerner in such a fashion? Had she wanted to anger Murray Stewart, or to separate the lovers? Why?

NEWS OF THE SPORTING WORLD

Frank Frederickson And Clem Loughlin Arrive in Victoria

Two Flashy Cougars' Puckchasers Take Part in Practice and Surprise Railbirds by Their Wonderful Showing—Fowler Will Be Here Tomorrow and Team Will Be Complete

FRANK FREDERICKSON, the Cougars' flashy centre puck-chaser and one of the greatest players that hockey has ever produced, and Clem Loughlin, whose worth as a defence man is recognized all over the sporting world, reached their Winter destination yesterday, when they arrived in Victoria ready to start in what they hope will prove one of the most brilliant seasons of their careers. The two boys went out to the rink last night, tied on skates and took stick in hand, and maybe they didn't show some class. Well, the rabid railbirds said so, anyway. "Nuff said." Watch the Cougars, folks in the other Coast town are saying. And perhaps they will not be far out if they do.

Every one of the Edmonton players is present, with the exception of Arthur Oliver, of the Calgary Tigers, who is also working out with the Eskimos. The Calgary and Regina teams are expected along about Saturday to start training, which will be wound up with a series starting November 17.

ATTRACTION ADDED TO BOXING CARD

McDonald and Best Will Fight Three Rounds as One of Monday's Preliminaries

Promoter Cromwell stated last night that he had secured the signature of McDonald, of Vancouver, to fight Best, of Ladysmith, the best of three rounds at 97 pounds, as an added attraction to Monday's boxing card at the Caledonia Hall.

McDonald is a son of the ex-lightweight champion, and is a true chip of the old block and a very hard hitter. The patrons of the National Sporting Club's opening show will certainly see some good fighting.

Reports from the training camps of Morgan and Cliffe, the principals in the main event, are good, and as this is the third time these fighters have met, a good fast fight is assured. Bests may be secured by calling at the "Two Jacks" Lope or from any member of the National Sporting Club.

MISS WETHERED

MISS WETHERED IS FOUR TIMES WINNER

IS EASILY IMBUEMENT AMONG BRITISH LADY GOLFERS

Miss Letich has had revenge in the Open Event, but Unable to Recover Laurels in Native Competition

LONDON, Nov. 7.—For the fourth successive time Miss Joyce Wethered has succeeded in winning the English ladies' close golf championship, and the pre-eminence of Miss Wethered among lady golfers was never more apparent than in the 36-hole final of the championship, played at Ganton last month.

It was just three years ago that the young girl who was destined to become the most famous lady player of all time defeated Miss Letich in the ladies' close championship. This was at Sheringham, when, on an epoch-making day, Miss Wethered defeated the invincible champion, and in doing so paved the way to her own unprecedented success. At that time Miss Wethered was a mere novice, a British native champion, although Miss Letich has avenged herself in the open championships.

Reversed Positions
Miss Wethered was runner-up to Miss Letich in the ladies' open championship at Turnberry in 1921, while last year at Sandwich the positions were reversed. Miss Wethered, winning from Miss Letich in the final, in this year's open at Burnham. Miss Letich was defeated in the semi-final by Mrs. A. M. Muriel Dodd, won both the British open and the Canadian championship. This was Miss Wethered's first defeat in a 36-hole championship since her historic victory over Miss Letich in 1921.

During the early part of the play at Ganton, Miss Wethered displayed only moderate form, but in her match with Miss Gourlay, the lady champion of France and Surrey, Miss Wethered outplayed her opponent and scored her easiest success of the week.

A Losing Fight
In the final the champion's opponent was Mrs. T. A. Lodge, a Surrey County player, who had reached the final by right of re-entrance, having defeated players who were regarded as the most likely of Miss Wethered's challengers. By reason of her superior play, however, she was able to make a great fight for the title, but at the end of the first round the title holder was four holes to the good, and after losing the first three holes in the afternoon, became demoralized and outplayed, and bowed to the inevitable.

The approximate scores were: Miss Wethered, 79 and 47 (for 11 holes); Mrs. Lodge, 85 and 58 (for 11 holes).

The winners of the British ladies' championship since 1912 are as follows: 1912.....Mrs. M. Gardner; 1913.....Mrs. F. W. Brown; 1914.....Miss Cecil Leitch; 1915-18.....No championship; 1919.....Miss Cecil Leitch; 1920.....Miss Joyce Wethered; 1921.....Miss Joyce Wethered; 1922.....Miss Joyce Wethered; 1923.....Miss Joyce Wethered.

C.P.R. MUST PAY COLLISION COSTS

BEATRICE HELD AT FAULT IN SMASH WITH CAMOSEN

Railway Company Required to Pay $15,000 for Damage Done the Union Company Craft

VANCOUVER, Nov. 8.—The Canadian Pacific Railway Company is liable for a collision January 20 last in McKay Reach, west of Kingscombe Point, between its steamer Princess Beatrice and the steamer Camosen, owned and operated by the Union Steamship Company of British Columbia.

Judgment to that effect has been rendered by Mr. Justice Martin, who conducted the trial several months ago.

The C.P.R. claim of $15,000 damages is dismissed and the Camosen's counter-claim of $15,000 damages is allowed.

Reasons for the judgment are to be rendered later.

The collision occurred on a calm night and after the steamers had sighted each other several miles apart. The bow of the Beatrice struck the Camosen nearly amidships.
The Beatrice's master was Captain C.
C. Hainy, but Second Officer S. S.
Forbes was in charge at the time of the collision. In the case of the Camosen the master was Captain A.
E. Dickson and First Officer S. Nelson was in charge.

Counsel at the trial were J. E. Mc-Mullen and M. M. Greaves for the C.P.R., and E. C. Myers and J. L.
Abbott for the Union Company.

No Pole Trip Planned
By MacMillan Vessel

PORTLAND, Maine, Nov. 8.—
Friends of Captain Ronald B. Macmillan here, including backers of his Arctic expedition, said today that the radio message received in Winthrop from his Winter quarters indicating that he was hopeful of reaching the Pole, was apparently based on a misunderstanding. The expedition was organized for exploration of Gles-merland. There has been no intention of going to the North Pole and it is pointed out there that even if Macmillan so desired he could not attempt it because of lack of necessary equipment and a supporting party.

Typhus Suspect Holds

QUEBEC, Nov. 8.—A suspected case of typhus among the third class passengers of the Empress of France, bound for Quebec from Cherbourg and Southampton on its last trip of the season, caused the ship to be detained at Grosse Ile, the quarantine station, yesterday.

A child in the afflicted person, but it is not known whether the disease is typhus or measles. The ship is pending the result of a blood test, the steamer will remain at Grosse Ile.

Jumps to Death From Ten-Story Building

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 8.—An unidentified woman, apparently about 30 years of age, jumped to instant death today from the roof of a ten-story building in the heart of the business district. Her body crashed on the pavement in the midst of a line of automobiles and a crowd of pedestrians. All marks of identification had been removed from her clothing, but in her pocket were two notes in German, of which the police took possession in an effort to trace her identity.

ROYAL Can you picture the in-theatre comparable Norma Talmadge as an adventuress who specializes in breach of promise blackmail? As Mary Turner, released from prison after serving time for a department store theft of which she is innocent, and under oath to "get even" with the employer who wanted to make an example of her, she has such a role in the big First National picture, "Within the Law," which will be shown again today at the Royal. Embittered by her inability to gain respectable employment, Mary Turner joins a gang of blackmailers with the promise that they work only "within the law." And obtaining monetary "heart-balm" from wealthy and injudicious men she found to be the safest and most lucrative method. The complications grow when Dick Gilder, son of Mary's hated former employer, is picked as a victim, following which the most extraordinary and dramatic romance develops. Mary Turner is the stellar part made famous by Jane Cowl on the stage in Bayard Veiller's play. It is said to give Miss Talmadge the greatest opportunity she has yet had to reveal her extraordinary emotional powers. Jack Mulhall and Lew Cody have the principal male roles. "Within the Law" was made under the masterful direction of Frank Lloyd and is presented by Joseph M. Schenck, who has added attraction, the great international horse race between Papyrus and Zev will also be shown.

CAPITOL As full of punch as a punch bowl! In this manner has the English racing screen classic, "Son of Kissing Cup," which is showing at the Capitol Theatre, been described. And the description is one which aptly suits it. In the leading role will be seen a female star, believed by thousands and thousands of picture fans and critics across the Atlantic to be the most beautiful artist of the silver sheet throughout the British Isles. Opposite her will appear Stewart R. Rome, one of the most brilliant cast, including Mrs. Hayden Coffin, Cameron Carr, Judd Green, Arthur Walcott, Bob Vallis, J. Frazer and Lewis Gilbert. The outstanding feature of the picture is the winning by Papyrus, England's master horse, with O'Donoghue, England's premier jockey, of the Derby at Epsom Downs at the very last moment, just when it seems the race is about to start without them.

DOMINION In the veins of the theatre young men humor runs strongest. The great comedians of the screen are all youngsters, comparatively. And the men who furnish them with the material that makes them funny are young fellows. This is particularly true of the Harold Lloyd organization, which gives to the screen another great comedy production in "Why Worry?" showing at the Dominion Theatre this week. Lloyd himself is still under 20—23 to be exact. Sam Taylor, who heads his scenario staff, is only twenty-seven. Fred Newmeyer, who co-directs with Taylor, is the oldest of the troupe, being thirty-five. Ted Wilde and Tim Wheeler, who assist in furnishing the multitude of gags which are to be found in "Why Worry?" are each thirty years old. But of wide experience through their ten years on the American stage. Walter Lundin, head cameraman, is thirty-one, and rated high among the leading motion picture photographers. Youth goes to make "Why Worry?" and that essential ingredient it is difficult to make pictures funny.

COLUMBIA A singularly auspicious theatre cast surrounds Charles Jones in "Skid Proof," which opened at the Columbia Theatre yesterday for a three-day run. William Fox, producer of this film, obviously gave the assignment of roles more consideration than is customary. Each player is tendered a part that seems to have been written especially for him. Grouped about Mr. Jones are today, Andrew Peggy Shaw, Harry Tracey, Earl Metcalf, Fred Eric, Jacqueline Gadsdon and Claude Peyton. Miss Anson poses as the petite actress Sadie. She is sincere and forceful in her characterization. When Charles Jones, as Jack Darwin, falls in love with her, there is no surprise felt by the spectator. It is a proceeding as natural as breathing. Fred Eric gives a most satisfactory performance as Dutton Hardmore, the deceived friend and betrayed husband. Peggy Shaw is a sprightly Marie Hardmore, and Jacqueline Gadsdon a venerable Lorraine Hardmore. Harry Tracey does some good comedy stuff as Dancing Joe. Two arch-villains are found in Earl Metcalf and Claude Peyton, as Rufus Tyler and Masters, respectively.

DAME CLARA BUTT AGAIN WINS ACCLAIM

Dame Clara Butt again charmed a vast audience last evening with her recital at the Capitol Theatre. She appeared in a programme considerably different from that of the previous night, but her superb performance was no less appreciated.

Mr. Kennerley Rumford's contributions to the programme were also markedly pleasing. Mr. W. H. Squire's cello numbers, five in number, revealed an artist of outstanding capacity whom Victoria hopes to have the privilege of hearing again. Of the several things which he played, Papillon, by Popper, one of the greatest of cello music composers, was one of the most surprisingly delightful, the pulsing distinctness being eminently descriptive. Sammartini's "Old Italian Love Song" was a lovely romantic in treatment and proved very appealing.

Mr. Ivor Newton, the pianist, was able to add enormously to the enjoyment of the recital with his skillful and sympathetic playing of several important numbers. Exactness as to the demands upon the artist, as were the demands on the piano used. Those were, however, met to the full in Mr. Newton having at his disposal the new Canadian improved grand piano of Ye Olde Firme of Heintzman & Company, which provided a splendid help, measuring up in every way to the requirements of composer and artist.

SAY GOOD FELLOWS GET TOGETHER

LIQUOR BOARD'S "SPECIALS" EXPLAIN HOW IT IS DONE

Magistrate Hears All About the Process by Which Dignity of the Law is Maintained

Charges of illegal sale of liquor are the order of these days in the city court, and Magistrate Jay counts that day lost when he does not reserve judgment after listening to the now thrice-told tale of how, on the one hand, the Liquor Board "special constables" sent over here from Vancouver, met and succeeded in confronting the defendants to sell beer or whisky, or, on the other hand, of how the said defendants have never been put in the stocks for the offence of the liquor laws.

Judgment was reserved in the city court yesterday in the case of John Ferguson and William Brennan, charged with the sale of beer in the Gordon Hotel, Johnson Street, to E. A. Killen and W. T. Harrison, two of the trio of stool pigeons who have been operating in the city. Mr. R. C. Lowe appeared for the defendants, who entered a flat denial of the allegations made by the "specials."

Cubwood Man Charged

In the provincial police court, later in the day, trial was begun of W. Smith, cub wood store, Colwood, charged with the sale of seven bottles of beer, on October 23 last, to W. T. Harrison and A. Grant. Mr. Ernest Miller, appearing for the defence, put his case in evidence today. Mr. Alexis Martin is appearing as prosecutor in the provincial court.

Cross-examination of W. T. Harrison by both defence lawyers elicited some interesting information as to the operations of that witness and his "workmen," as counsel called them, in deference to their frequently stated objection to being described as stool pigeons.

Harrison said that he and Grant were formerly members of the Vancouver city police force. They had been discharged with good characters when the force was reduced last Spring. As special constables of the Liquor Board they were allowed as expenses whatever they were obliged to spend in order to get convictions. They had spent as much as $15 in one day. Harrison's expense account in Victoria for three weeks was $153. Soft drinks and pool games were among the items of the account. They had to frequent pool rooms in order to get information, the witness said.

Liquor Board's Good Fellows
It was necessary also, said Harrison, for the stool pigeons to "make good fellows of themselves." They sometimes visited their selected bootleggers several times and drank there, before they preferred charges. They did that to allay suspicion, to promote the fiction that they were good fellows, so that they might get their evidence properly when the time had come to spring the trap.

Harrison admitted that it was sometimes necessary to do a good deal of promiscuous drinking before the prey was securely bagged. The whisky was rotten in some of the establishments, according to Harrison, so rotten that he had "chucked away" two glasses of it in one local house of illicit refreshment. Magistrate Jay suggested that this was to throw away the evidence; but the witness thought that such evidence was bad evidence, and was good neither as whisky nor as a material exhibit in court.

The police court calendar is still choked with cases set down for trial on similar charges, and Magistrate Jay intimated yesterday that it would be necessary to stand some of them over until after the Thanksgiving holiday next week.

BRISK ADVANCE IN NEW YORK STOCKS

Prices Climbed Higher on Brisk Market—Falling Off in the Bond Division

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—There was some falling off today in the volume of trading in the bond division of the New York Stock Exchange, due probably to the unusually large amount of new offerings out this week. This tone, however, generally held firm. The more notable trading was in the high grade investment railroad issues. Traders indicated that much of the buying of that class of securities was of foreign origin, while bargain hunters in this country continued to bid for the secondary railroad mortgages.

The marked activity for United States government bonds slowed down somewhat and net changes were relatively unimportant. There was a better demand for foreign issues, several of the recently heavy South American bonds pointing upward.

Stock prices, which have been climbing upward for more than a week, made another brisk advance in the high grade investment railroad issues. Traders indicated that much of the buying of that class of securities was of foreign origin, while bargain hunters in this country continued to bid for the secondary railroad mortgages.

Another series of favorable domestic developments furnished the impetus for the rise, but much of the buying was reported as coming from trapped short interests, who had stubbornly contested the advance. Commission houses reported an increased public interest, although the buying of small investors is still a relatively negligible factor.

ESKIMO HEROINE FIGHTS ON ALONE

ADA BLACKJACK PENS RECORD OF STRUGGLE FOR LIFE

GIRL FIGHTS OFF DISEASE, TENDS SICK COMPANION, HUNTS, COOKS, AND PRAYS FOR ASSISTANCE

By Harold Niles, Leader Wrangel Island
Rescue Expedition.

(Copyright 1923, in U. S. and Canada by the North American Newspaper Alliance.)

There are two documents without which no record of the tragic expedition of Wrangel Island would be complete. One is a slim volume of notes—less than a dozen sheets of typewriter paper, pencil-ruled and sawn together with white cotton thread. The other is an old catalogue.

They are Ada Blackjack's diaries.
Both are written in her curious, broken-English, with a pencil so dull that at times the words are scarcely legible.

During her two years on the island
the Eskimo girl had seen her companions writing in their diaries day by day, and heard them talking of the necessity of keeping their records.
One by one, as Knight succumbed to scurvy, she had taken over all of his chore. Now, he charged her with the only remaining task—that of keeping up the diary. While his hand was fast becoming too weak to hold a pencil, Ada started her own record of their life and death struggle on Wrangel Island.

This record of Ada, in its pathetic and horror, forms a climax to the story of the ill-fated men of the expedition. A woman and a dying man, cut off by a hundred miles of ice from the nearest human being!

Ada's Diary

I shall reproduce the quotations as they were written, with only such punctuation as will make them understandable.

The first entry is headed: "Made in March 14, 1923," a week before Knight ceased to keep his diary and has to do with what is to them a vital matter.

"The first fox I caught was in Feb.
21 and the second March 3rd and 4th and 5th. That make four white foxes.
And then, in March 13 I caught three white foxes. That makes seven foxes altogether. 14th I got headach all day. I am taking aspirin. It seems didn't work. Oh yes, in 13th I got new army pants. On 12th of March I set eight pieces of traps. 16th I was over to the traps. No sign of fresh tracks and I put new sole on my felt slippers, and washed the dishes and I feel very much better than yesterday. Very clear all day.

"March 16—I have not feeling well for three days. First day was head-ach and then I had stomach trouble and today I feel much better. I was over to the traps. Last night Knight told me I can keep the Bible. He said he give them to me. Very nice day so far.

"March 18—I caught one male fox today. Fat one too. I wash my head.
And oh yes I got snow glasses today.
19th—I was over to the traps and found that the last fox had been in and she run away with the trap. And I haul two sled load on and chop wood."

Bears Now Safe

The polar bear for which Knight had been longing so desperately appeared too late to be of any use. It came on March 26, when Knight was utterly helpless and before Ada had learned to shoot.

"26th—This morning about 11 o'clock I saw a polar bear on the ice, and I saw three foxes one with a trap on her foot. I haul one load on sled and saw four cuts off log and chop wood. I pretty near finish my belt."

Undoubtedly, at this time, Ada was quite sick herself. There is the pathos of a sick child in the entries of the next few days.

"27th—Oh my! I feel very weak
now. I can feel it yesterday and today.
29th—My eye swollen up and one side of my face Ach. It start yesterday and today it very much Ach. I caught one male fox it pretty good meat and I saw six cut of wood and I chop only three.

"30th—I didn't go out today and my eye is worse than yesterday and swollen (swollen) both side eye.
March 31—My eye is worse than yesterday and one side of my face is swollen and I took out skin packet and get boro ach (boric acid) and cotton and bandage.

"April 1—I didn't go out today because my face is swollen and my eye is pretty near close from swollen and it very Ach."

Ada's illness frightened her. She thinks that she is going to die, and her diary turns to a cry of longing to be at home:

Oh, to Be Home

"Apr. 2nd—I take ship packet out today one of my eye one that is swelling is going down a little and one side of my throat. (Illigible) is hard a little. Knight wants me to go out to the traps but my eye is very Ach so I can't go out when my eye is that way because in evening I could hardly stand the Ach of my eye and one side of head. If anything happen to me and my death is known there is head strap for Bennett's school book bag—for my only son. I wish if you please take everything to Bennett that is belong to me. I don't know how much I should be glad to get home to folks.
Apr. 3rd—My eye is getting better and swelling is going down.
Apr. 4th—My eye is the same as yesterday but my stomach is on down, and I don't feel pain in my throat but my eye was foggy today.
I haven't been out for three days.
Apr. 5th—I got up early this morning and then chop wood and I went to the traps and caught one frozen fox, nothing but skin and bone and I open oil and I finish one side of yam glove for Galle and start another side."

Though the three boys who attempted to get to Siberia for rescue are long since gone, Ada's faith in their return persists. She goes on making clothes for them just as though they might drop in at any minute. She watches the progress of Knight's disease with growing anxiety. She has no hot-water bottle, but makes a bag of canvas and fills a side show freak.

March 22
The woman got no foxes today, but lost three traps that were fastened on one aim. Have been on my back for over a month and I am getting tired of it. Would like to get out.

March 23
No luck at the traps. Caught myself whistling this A. M. Not that I don't want to whistle, God knows. However this is in sports only for I am as weak as a cat. A strong boy from the East. Drifting a little. Just drank a quart of fox soup. Wish you could get a beer. This fox meat does not lie very easy on my stomach. The little red spots have nearly all left my arms, but, one

It with fine gravel. By heating this she can make him warmer and more comfortable.

Crumbs Become Precious

With the diminishing supply of food, even the crumbs become precious to Ada and her companion. Regardless of her own illness and her forebodings of Knight's approaching death she keeps faithfully to the petity details of her daily activities.

"Apr. 14—I was out to the traps today and got nothing but I saw fresh track behind the camp and I open case of biscuits and cut out skin for my boot soles and I make thread out of sinew and I gather biscuit crumbs together and take them to eat. Very clear and sunshine.

"Apr. 16th... I got my boot soles already and soak them and Knight said he was feel bad.

"Apr. 17th... I guess Knight is feel worse he didn't have tea this evening he said he was headach."

The stupendousness of her task and the sheer horror of her situation is sometimes almost more than Ada can bear.

"It's hard for women to take four man's place, to saw wood and to hunt for something to eat for Knight...
This is the worstest life I ever lived in this world."

And trying my best in everything...
If Knight happen to die what will I do here in this island all alone? He is laying in his bed since February 9 and now April 21st he is looks bad.
And it's a long time yet till we might see ship come. Well God knows everything."

The coming of Sunday seemed to make her recall more vividly her life in Nome:

"Apr. 24 (Sunday)—I didn't go out today. I just wash my hair and read the Bible and I think of folks are in church this morning and this evening and now I'm writing 11 o'clock in evening after I had cup of tea.

Diary Becomes Prayer

"Apr. 26th—I was out today and saw wood. And when I was hauling wood home I was almost fainting.
I guess I was so weak I was almost fainting. And this morning when I wake up from my deep sleeping I look at my watch and it was four o'clock and the inside of the house was so dark so I said to myself I sleep that long because I went to bed early last night and I was thinking that we have not enough wood for today and I said to myself I'll sleep some until late this evening then I'll go make cup of tea and go to bed again so about 10 o'clock I wake up again it was in the morning. I was glad when I know it's morning."

As the diary goes on it becomes more and more a prayer on paper—something written not to men, but to God.

"April 30th—And it's still blowing hard this last day of April. Knight is still living like anybody. So if I happen to get back home I don't know how much I would be glad. God is the only one would brought me home again. There is no one pity me in this world but God even there is no hand would help me but God...
May 1st—Still blowing a little but not much. I can see sun shining through the little hole. And I read ing in first (first) part of February

Spring Birds

No one in the civilized world can know what joy Ada Blackjack greeted the first sign of Spring. In the Arctic it is the snow bunting. Instead of the robin, which brings the first message of Spring. On May third Ada writes:

"I was out to chop wood today and I saw snow bird on my hole I was glad to see snow birds come and I was over to the traps and didn't see anything even a track and I open a can of biscuits."

The fear of being alone, which is always in her mind, enters even into her dreams—dreams which seemed all the more significant to her from the fact that Eskimos attach a superstitious importance to these dreams.

"May 4th—Wind blowing hard from west so I can't go out today.
Well I went out to fix stove pipe. I dreamed last night that I was in somewhere and Knight and I was all alone and Knight left for Siberia with one dog and I was left all alone..."

One Hundred and Fifty
Leave for California

The Dorothy Alexander sailed for California ports last night with several hundred passengers, of whom 150 embarked at Victoria. One hundred of the latter hailed from the mainland and the Pacific. The local list included Mrs. Julia F. Chivers,

CHEMAMOUS WEDDING WAS MOST CHARMING

Miss Irene Murray Became Bride of Mr. Harry Smith, of Genoa Bay

CHEMAMOUS, Nov. 6.—On Sunday afternoon the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Murray was the scene of a very pretty but quiet wedding, when their eldest daughter, Miss Irene Murray, became the bride of Mr. Harry Smith, of Genoa Bay, in the presence of relatives and intimate friends only. The Rev. E. M. Cook, pastor of Calvary Baptist Church officiated.

The house was very prettily decorated with Autumn leaves for the occasion. The bride, who entered the room on her father's arm, looked very charming in her traveling gown of brown satin crepe, with smart little toque trimmed with silver. She carried a bridal bouquet of Ophelia roses and fern. Her sister, Miss Grace Murray, of Victoria, was bridesmaid, and looked very pretty in a dress of brown crepe with Oriental trimming and hat to match. She carried pink carnations and fern. Mr. Leonard Cary, of Chemainus, supported the groom.

Immediately after the ceremony a delicious wedding-supper was served, the centre of attraction being the three-tier wedding cake.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith left by motor, during the evening for their home at Genoa Bay amidst the hearty good wishes of their friends.

The young couple were the recipients of a great many useful and beautiful gifts.

BUNGALOW BAZAAR AT NANAIMO SUCCESSFUL

Great Fund of Beautiful and Useful Articles is Sold by the Ladies of St. Paul's NANAIMO, Nov. 7.—The bungalow bazaar held yesterday afternoon and evening by the St. Paul's Ladies' Guild proved to be an eminent success, both financially and socially.

The bazaar was opened by Mrs. William Sloan, and at the conclusion of her remarks, little Frances Smith presented her with a beautiful bunch of mauve chrysanthemums, tied with tulle, as a gift from the Guild.

No sooner had the bazaar been declared open than the crowd made a retreat to the various stalls in an effort to have the first chance at the many beautiful articles on sale. In the drawing room, which was presided over by Mrs. R. A. Playfair, there were many attractive articles for sale, and all of an original nature. Passing on, one came to the dining room, with Mrs. A. Mustart as convener, where was displayed painted china, runners, butter coolers, bridge and afternoon tea cloths, serviettes, cushion tops, and other articles which would grace a modern dining room.

At the kitchen stall, Mrs. F. C. Stearnman and Mrs. T. Pearson were joint conveners, and like other ladies in charge, had a bountiful supply. They had the tea, the baking, hostesses, and in celebration of Armistice Day. The classrooms were appropriately decorated for the occasion, while with Mrs. McKinnon, Mrs. Allison, presided at the tea table. Lieutenant Warren gave the pupils and those attending a splendid talk on the meaning of the day. An outstanding feature of his speech being one little lad's reply to the question: "What was the greatest event in the war?" giving the answer, "Germany licked!" Lieutenant Warren presented the school with a framed copy of "In Flanders Fields," being accorded a standing ovation of thanks for the gift. A short programme was given by the pupils, while Miss Eileen Bennett sang several songs very sweetly.

The reception committee was composed of Mrs. Priestley, president of the Guild, Mrs. S. Iyall and Mrs. Thomas Dobson.

The proceeds of the various sales amounted to over four hundred dollars, and the event was the most successful the Guild has ever held.

SOLD CARS WITHOUT MUNICIPAL LICENCE

Judgment Reserved in Nanaimo Man's Appeal at Albern Court Conviction

PORT ALBERNI, Nov. 8.—The appeal taken by Mr. Arthur Leighton, acting on behalf of Mr. G. A. Bate, of Nanaimo, who was convicted by Magistrate MacIntyre on a charge of selling automobiles in this municipality without having taken out a licence, as called for by the existing by-law, and who in the lower court was fined $50 and costs, was heard yesterday before His Honor Judge Barker in the County Court at Albern. The municipality was represented by Mr. L. Arnold Hanna, and Mr. Arthur Leighton, of Nanaimo, represented the appellant. The case was argued at considerable length, the fact of a sale having taken place not being disputed by counsel for appellant, he maintaining that the Provincial Motor Vehicles Act fully protected his client, and that it was unnecessary for his client to procure a municipal licence.

Other cases of a similar nature are pending in other municipalities, awaiting the decision given in the above case, and after hearing all the arguments of counsel, His Honor signified his intention of reserving his judgment until he had time to look further into the acts in dispute.

BOOKS W. L. MEETING.

An interesting meeting of the Book Women's Institute was held on Tuesday. The report of the masquerade dance showed a balance which paid the last instalment on the piano which the Institute installed in the book school last September. The Institute desires to thank Mrs. Black, J. H. Todd & Sons, David Spencer & W. A. Jamieson and Mr. Gillespie for donating prizes for the masquerade. The Institute will hold its next dance December 2.

MAN STEPS OUTSIDE; HOUSE BURNS DOWN

Residence of Capt. and Mrs. J. F. Goss Is Burned to Ground at Esquimalt Lagoon

COLWOOD, Nov. 8.—The home of Capt. and Mrs. J. F. Goss at the Esquimalt Lagoon was burned to the ground on Tuesday.

The fire was accounted for by a faulty chimney. Capt. Goss was preparing for the arrival of Mrs. Goss and his daughter, Mrs. Hannan, of Vancouver. He lighted a fire and left the house for a few moments. He found upon his return that the flames had already become too strong to be subdued. Fortunately the family was able to take up its residence in a summer shack belonging to the captain, pending future arrangements.

SAANICH WOMEN ARE AGAINST STAGE TAX

Women's Institute of North Saanich Will Sign Petition of Protest

SIDNEY, Nov. 7.—The usual monthly meeting of the North Saanich Women's Institute was held yesterday afternoon by kind invitation, at the home of Mrs. C. Wemyes. There was a very large attendance, vice-president Mrs. Philip being in the chair.

The secretary, Mrs. J. Ramsay, read the minutes of the last meeting and a number of letters, among them being one regarding a proposed tax on stages. All the members promised to sign a petition against the tax.

Mrs. Simister read the treasurer's report, and also one regarding the card party put on in aid of the library evening, which shows the sum of ten dollars, which will be passed to the library treasurer. Mrs. Deacon reported on the potato show, and asked the Institute to assist with the serving of tea at the show, which was assented to.

The parks committee reported upon the result of a meeting held last Friday. Mrs. Deacon was appointed Institute delegate to the coming conference, and also to the Central Committee, which meets on Thursday, in Victoria. It was decided to hold the annual meeting in December, and to invite Mrs. V. S. MacLachlan to preside at the meeting.

The business being concluded, a dainty tea was served by Mrs. Wemyes, which all enjoyed.

GREATEST WAR EVENT

"GERMANY LICKED"

Saanich Lad Makes Indisputable Reply to Lieutenant's Question About Big Conflict

ROYAL OAK, Nov. 8.—A particularly delightful silver tea was held at Strawberry Vale School on Wednesday afternoon, with the teachers and hostesses, and in celebration of Armistice Day. The classrooms were appropriately decorated for the occasion, while with Mrs. McKinnon, Mrs. Allison, presided at the tea table. Lieutenant Warren gave the pupils and those attending a splendid talk on the meaning of the day. An outstanding feature of his speech being one little lad's reply to the question: "What was the greatest event in the war?" giving the answer, "Germany licked!" Lieutenant Warren presented the school with a framed copy of "In Flanders Fields," being accorded a standing ovation of thanks for the gift. DR. MONTGOMERY DIES AT LADYSMITH

Had Many Years' Experience in Medical Work, Including Service in Great War

NANAIMO, Nov. 8.—The remains of the late Dr. John Edward Montgomery, whose death occurred in Ladysmith on Tuesday, November 6, were laid to rest at Ladysmith yesterday.

The late Dr. Montgomery was born at Barrie, Ont., January 26, 1886. He was a son of the late Fred Meyers Montgomery. Dr. Montgomery received his medical education at Toronto University in 1910, after which he attended post-graduate work in New York, Toronto and Chicago. Coming west, he served one year as medical officer on the R.M.S. Empress of Japan, afterwards practicing his profession on Vancouver Island for three years, when he enlisted with the Canadian Expeditionary Force in 1916. He served in France with the 13th Field Ambulance, 4th Division. He was invalided to England, and subsequently spent some time there in military hospital work. He returned to Canada on the SS Olympic as chief medical officer, and was appointed as medical officer in charge at the Newmarket Mental Hospital. After the Armistice he settled in Ladysmith.

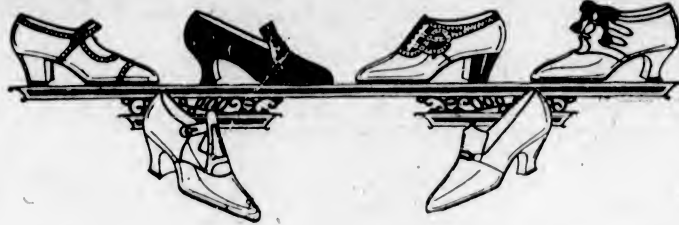

His death came in a most tragic manner, as he contracted diphtheria while dealing with an epidemic of that disease in Ladysmith and the district.

Besides his widow, he is survived by one daughter, Eleanor, and three sons, Lawrence, Lynn and Richard; his mother, and one brother, Lynn Myers Montgomery, of Toronto.

Hotel Guest Brought Back to Settle Bill

PORT ALBERNI, Nov. 8.—A recent boarder at the Huxford Hotel, who suddenly left town leaving a delinquent board bill, was arrested by Chief of Police Cronk in Vancouver on Monday, and brought back here yesterday. The prisoner was brought before Magistrate J. A. MacIntyre this morning, and was allowed to go on suspended sentence for two months in order to enable him to obtain work and sufficient money to pay off the amount owing to the hotel.
